“...for I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was imprisoned and you visited me, I was naked and you gave me clothing, I was sick and you took care of me, I was imprisoned and you visited me... just as you did it to one of the least of these who are members of my family, you did it to me.”

(Matthew 25:35-36, 40)

Welcome to Mission: one heart many voices

On behalf of Catholic Religious Australia I want to add the warmest of welcomes to this conference. It is an exciting concept: a multi-sector celebration and dialogue about the central call of all Christians of living and leading mission. The title also suggests that the celebration and dialogue highlight ways of doing this better. Catholic Religious Australia is proud to be co-sponsor of this event together with Catholic Mission at this special time within the Year of Grace and the Year of Faith.

This time is, I believe, a wonderful moment of grace. Pope Francis' initial actions and words call us especially to serve the poor, the weak and the vulnerable. The expression of our call that speaks to me is collaboration with Jesus' mission of bringing God's reign of justice, love and peace closer to reality. May we grow more fully into our call to love and lead God's mission.

Annette Cunliffe RSC
President, Catholic Religious Australia

It is with great pleasure I welcome you on behalf of Catholic Mission to Mission: one heart many voices. Catholic Mission is delighted to be partnering with Catholic Religious Australia for such an important event. This conference has been in the planning for well over a year and my hope and prayer is that you feel very welcomed, affirmed, involved and nourished over the next few days.

We gather at a time of great hope – Easter, the Celebration of the Year of Grace and Year of Faith, the 50th Anniversary of Vatican II and the election of Pope Francis. May we all share in the hope and inspiration of these events and in a special way, from each other, so to be more able to live and lead mission better.

National Director, Catholic Mission

Conference Sponsors

Invocare

WN Bull Funerals, a proud member of the InvoCare group, is proud to be a committed supporter of Catholic Mission and, in turn, of this conference.

This is an exciting time to be part of the Catholic community as in 2013 we are fortunate enough to commemorate both the abdication and inauguration of the Pope Emeritus, and to celebrate the election of Pope Francis.

In 2012, WN Bull was blessed to participate in the Catholic Church's Pilgrimage of Grace, where the relic of St Francis Xavier, one of the founders of the Jesuit order, toured Australia, inspiring Catholics wherever it went. Less than a year later, a Jesuit has been elected as Pope, and has taken the name of Francis.

We wait in eager anticipation to find out where this inspiration will take us in another year's time and we look forward to continuing our support of Catholic Mission and such events into the future.

Sisters of Mercy

The Sisters of Mercy first came to Australia in 1846 and to Papua New Guinea in 1956. Dedicated to serving people who suffer from injustices related to poverty, sickness or lack of education, we endeavour to respond to a range of local and global needs. For the sake of our mission, in December 2011, 15 Mercy Congregations formed the Institute of Sisters of Mercy of Australia and Papua New Guinea. There are over 940 sisters of the Institute in Australia and Papua New Guinea.

“As it is there are many members, yet one body.”

Conference Partners

CCI

CCI is the only Australian insurer specialising in the Catholic community. Over the last 100 years, CCI has grown into a diversified insurance and financial services provider. CCI offers a broad range of solutions for Catholic clients, including insurance for organisations and individuals, asset management, workers' compensation, risk management and superannuation administration.

Our new corporate brand, name and websites have created a fresh and modern image for CCI. We aim to partner with our clients to help achieve success, through the promise of a professional and progressive approach. This holds us in good stead for the future and continues to strengthen our commitment to serving Church and our clients.

Holy Spirit Missionary Sisters

The Holy Spirit Sisters are an International group of Catholic Women, from 48 nations, working in 50 countries around the world. We are dedicated to making known the presence and action of the Holy Spirit in the lives of all people we encounter.

The Congregation was founded by St. Arnold Janssen in 1889. He was inspired with zeal to bring God's Word to the people of distant countries and colonies, especially to women.

The sisters live in multicultural communities witnessing to the unity of humankind. They give preference to the most excluded in society, and seek in all their activities to reveal the feminine face of God.

Getting the most out of the Conference

Master of Ceremonies – Ms Sandie Cornish

Sandie Cornish is a practitioner in the field of Catholic Social Teaching. She is currently Director of Mission for the Society of the Sacred Heart and has previously worked in a number of Catholic organisations in the areas of research, policy, planning, and formation, as well as leading the Asian Centre for the Progress of Peoples. She is a sessional lecturer with the Catholic Institute of Sydney and a distance tutor for the Broken Bay Institute. She was the first woman to head a national agency of the Australian Catholic Bishops' Conference, serving as the National Executive Officer of the Australian Catholic Social Justice Council for five years.

The Catenian Association

The Catenians are an international brotherhood who meets regularly to share their faith. For this conference, members have generously volunteered their time and energy to helping you get around the venues, answer any questions and keep us on schedule. Dressed in blue, you will find the Catenian men at every doorway and on every level. Our great thanks to all the volunteer Catenians.

For more information on the Catenian Association visit www.thecatenianassociation.org.au

Conference Participation

Whether you whisper or shout aloud, please share your voice. There are many opportunities for your voice to share in the dialogue and conversation and we invite you to embrace whatever way you are comfortable. Please engage your head, heart, hands and voices to help us all emerge with better praxis for living and leading mission better.

Choir of Voices – Share What You've Heard

If you have a moment of awakening, experience something that moves you or have an inspiration when reflecting upon mission, we invite you to share your thoughts on our Many Voices canvas. This canvas is located on Level 2A of Sydney Congress Hall, in the corner between the main stairs and the entrance to the auditorium. Please write directly on the canvas, sign your name or keep your comments anonymous. By sharing your thoughts and reactions you can help deepen and continue the dialogue on mission at this conference. This will also be one way we engage with feedback during the conference process.

Let Us Hear Your Voice! – Conference Session Evaluations

In this conference booklet, there are ten tear-out coupons which are designed to enable you to let your voice be heard. These evaluations will be reviewed daily and used to guide our opening session discussion the following day as well as provide some overview of the overall conference. Your voice is special and we need to hear it, so please complete these as directed and place them into the envelopes provided during each session. Evaluation Coupon #10 can be submitted any time – if you want to share a thought or give us some feedback, it can be handed to any Catenian or submitted along with your specific session evaluations.

Please take a few moments to complete each evaluation form. Please rate your experience of each session of the conference by indicating a number and providing a comment.

After the Conference – How Can the Dialogue Continue?

Our hope is that this conference will be a great multi-sector celebration and dialogue on how we can all live and lead mission better. But what comes next?

The conference website: www.mohmv.com.au will remain live and active and we invite you to submit ideas, articles, and events – anything you would like to share with others. We hope it can become a space for everyone passionate about mission. The future of this initiative is a living work in progress and we invite you, your ideas, skills and experience in continuing our connection after these three days.

“Mission is a single but complex reality, and it develops in a variety of ways.”

(Redemptoris Missio #41)

Keynote Speakers

Fr Stephen Bevans SVD

Stephen Bevans is a priest of the Society of the Divine Word. Ordained in 1971, he served from 1972 until 1981 as a missionary to the Philippines and is currently the Louis J. Luzbetak, SVD Professor of Mission and Culture at Catholic Theological Union, Chicago, where he has taught since 1986. Fr Bevans has lectured all over the world, including the Philippines, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Germany and Italy, and in many places in the United States as well. He is the author of Models of Contextual Theology (1992), An Introduction to Theology in Global Perspective (2009), and, with Roger Schroeder, Constants in Context (2004) and Prophetic Dialogue (2011), and, with Jeffrey Gros, Evangelization and Freedom (2009). He has served as president of the American Society of Missiology (2006) and on the board of directors of the Catholic Theological Society of America (2007-2009).

Dr Gemma Tulud Cruz

Gemma Tulud Cruz has taught for a number of years in the United States before moving to Australia where she is currently Senior Lecturer in Theology at Australian Catholic University in Melbourne. She holds a Ph.D in Theology from Radboud Universiteit Nijmegen in the Netherlands. Her main research focus is migration. She is author of An Intercultural Theology of Migration: Pilgrims in the Wilderness and recently completed One Bread, One Body, One People: Challenges of Migration. Her other areas of interest include missiology, women and gender issues, contextual theologies, global Catholicism, and theologies of liberation.

Archbishop Mark Coleridge

Archbishop Mark Coleridge was ordained as an Auxiliary Bishop of Melbourne in 2002, appointed as the Archbishop of Canberra-Goulburn in 2006 and the Archbishop of Brisbane in 2012. After ordination in 1974 Fr Coleridge worked as an assistant priest in various Melbourne parishes before being invited to study Sacred Scripture in Rome. He completed a doctorate in Sacred Scripture in 1992. He has worked in the Vatican Secretariat of State and been Master of the Catholic Theological College, Melbourne. Archbishop Coleridge is also a member of the Pontifical Council for Social Communications and the Pontifical Council for Culture. He is the Chairman of the Bishops Commission for Liturgy and a member of the Bishops Commission for Doctrine and Morals (ACBC).

Keynote Speakers

Sr Maureen McBride RNDM

Maureen McBride has extensive experience in leadership, formation and education. She has been the Congregational Leader of the Sisters of Our Lady of the Missions since 2002. The congregation has over 1,000 members living and ministering in 23 countries across the world. Since 2008 new foundations have been opened in South Sudan, Laos, Thailand, Kazakhstan and Taiwan. Sr Maureen has held positions in university faculties in New Zealand and the Philippines. She holds a Master of Arts in French and German as well as a Master of Theology from the Maryknoll School of Theology, New York. She has been a member of the SEDOS Executive, Rome (Service of Documentation and Study on Global Mission).

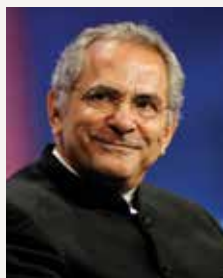

Mrs Kath Evans

Kath Evans has become well-known as the person whose cure from cancer in 1996 was accepted as the second miracle in the cause of the canonisation of Mary MacKillop. In 2010 Kath and her husband Barry travelled to Rome and took part in the canonisation ceremonies there. Since then Kath and Barry have responded to the hundreds of invitations from the media and from groups around Australia to share their experience of God's grace through Mary MacKillop. They recognise that though they are 'very ordinary people' they have been called to respond in God's mission. Kath's book published by Michael Joseph (Penguin Books) in 2012, The Story Behind Saint Mary MacKillop's Second Miracle, documents her remarkable cure. Kath and Barry have five children, 20 grandchildren and are welcoming the next generation into their family.

H. E. Jose Ramos-Horta

H. E. Jose Ramos-Horta started his professional life as a journalist but was exiled in 1970 to Mozambique where he worked towards securing independence for East Timor. After the withdrawal of the Portuguese colonial authorities, Jose Ramos-Horta joined the newly founded Fretilin party and continued to work for independence. Following invasion by Indonesia, he represented Fretilin at the UN from 1977 to 1985, advocating for human rights and promoting a peace plan to end the violence in his country. He obtained qualifications in Public International Law, Peace Studies and Human Rights Law. In 1996, Jose Ramos-Horta and Bishop Carlos Belo were awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. Since independence in 1999, Jose Ramos-Horta has served as both President and Prime Minister of Timor-Leste in addition to other ministerial roles. He has advocated for forgiveness as 'human being, victim and head of state'.

Speakers/Presenters

Ms Brooke Clark

Brooke Clark is passionate about using social justice to invite young people into the heart of the Church and she has channelled that passion into youth ministry. Since graduating from the University of Notre Dame Australia in 2011 with a Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Secondary Education, she uses her role as classroom teacher to engage with teenagers by challenging the youth of today to step up and be the change they wish to see in the world.

Mr John Cleary

John Cleary is a member of the ABC's specialist Religion Unit and has been described as 'one of Australia's leading commentators on religious affairs'. John is best known for his years with Radio National as presenter of 'The Religion Report' and the philosophy program 'Meridian'. He was part of the original 'Compass' team on ABC TV, and was for several years a weekly part of the Triple J morning program. During his career with the ABC John has worked for extended periods in Perth, Melbourne, and Sydney. John's appointment to Sunday Night on local radio in 2001 marked a welcome return to a spot John occupied on local and metropolitan radio in the early 1990s. In 1994 his book on the Salvation Army in Australia Salvo was awarded Australian Religious Book of the Year.

Dr Therese D'Orsa

Therese D'Orsa is a Catholic missiologist and educational leader who has exercised a range of leadership roles in Catholic education systems and has taught in several tertiary institutions. She is currently conjoint professor of the University of Newcastle and Broken Bay Institute, an honorary fellow of Australian Catholic University and research associate of the MCD University of Divinity. Therese is a foundation Board Member of the Yarra Institute for Religion and Social Policy.

Speakers/Presenters

Dr John Falzon

John Falzon is Chief Executive Officer of the St Vincent de Paul Society National Council of Australia. He has written and spoken widely on the structural causes of marginalisation and inequality in Australia and has long been involved in advocacy campaigns for a fairer and more equitable society. John has worked in academia, in research and advocacy with NGOs, and in community development in large public housing estates. He holds degrees in Literature, Theology, Philosophy, Politics and Social Analysis. He is also a published poet. John was a participant in the 2020 Summit, has served as a member of the ACOSS board and has also served on Government advisory committees. He is a member of the Australian Social Inclusion Board. John has recently published The Language of the Unheard.

Ambassador Abel Guterres

His Excellency Mr Abel Guterres is Timor-Leste's ambassador to Australia. He grew up in the mountain village of Baguia, one of thirteen children. From an early age he worked to support his siblings and at the age of sixteen became a primary school teacher. He came to Australia in 1975 as a refugee, later becoming an Australian citizen and raising his five children in Australia. Abel worked as a tram and bus driver in Melbourne until 1999 while working continuously as an activist on behalf of his people. In 2000 he was chosen by the then Foreign Minister, H.E. Dr Jose Ramos-Horta to undertake postgraduate studies at Oxford University, subsequently serving in a number of positions in the new administration. In 2003, he was appointed as Timor Leste's first Consul-General to Australia, and has served as Ambassador since 2010.

Mr Martin Laverty

Martin Laverty is the CEO of Catholic Health Australia. He is Chair of the NSW Heart Foundation, and a member of the National Heart Foundation Board. He is a member of the NSW Public Service Commission Advisory Board, and in 2013 retired as Chair of the NSW disability organisation Sunshine. Martin has previously held roles at the NSW Parliament, the NSW Muscular Dystrophy Association, The Smith Family, and Burson-Marsteller. He is a former Board director of the NSW Muscular Dystrophy Association, and former Chair of the disability service provider Challenge Southern Highlands. He holds a Master of Comparative Constitutional Laws, and is a doctoral candidate completing a PhD on the contribution of non-executive directors to organisational outcomes. He has contributed to two books: What If? and Determining the Future: A Fair Go & Health for All, both published by Connor Court.

Speakers/Presenters

Mr Graeme Mundine

Graeme Mundine, a Bundjalung man from Northern NSW, has been involved in Church and Indigenous affairs for more than three decades. As a Marist Brother he commenced his working life as a teacher and later worked in youth ministry. In 1991, Graeme took up the role of inaugural Chair and Coordinator of the newly formed National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Catholic Council (NATSICC). He was instrumental in establishing NATSICC as a vibrant Aboriginal voice within the Catholic Church. Graeme then joined the National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Ecumenical Commission (NATSIEC), a commission of the National Council of Churches in Australia (NCCA). Graeme is now the Executive Officer of the Aboriginal Catholic Ministry in the Archdiocese of Sydney.

Sr Mary Ellen O'Donoghue RSJ

Mary Ellen is a Sister of St Joseph who has a background in education and has also lived and worked in the Pilbarra region of Western Australia. She is the CEO of Good Grief Ltd, an Australian not-for-profit organisation which provides programs for children, young people and adults challenged by loss and change. From its flagship program Seasons for Growth initiated in 1996, Good Grief has researched and developed a range of other programs including Stormbirds: Growing Through Natural Disasters, in response to calamitous bush fires in Australia. These programs are used internationally and Good Grief provides the training for program facilitators. Through Good Grief Ltd she now leads a team committed to assisting children, young people and adults grow through grief and loss into resilient people. Their commitment extends to encouraging the creation of networks of support and connectedness within communities.

“Intent on gathering the signs of the times in the present history, faith commits everyone of us to become a living sign of the presence of the Risen Lord in the World.”

(Pope Benedict XVI)
